Favors Annexation of Canada.

At Montreal, Lee Combat publishes an editorial in favor of the annexation of Canada to the United States. The paper points out that independence is impossible for Canada, and that annexation is the only alternative.

The Greenbrier, W. Va., Presbyterian has passed the following resolution: "It is the solemn and painful conviction of this presbytery that some of the brethren are departing from the time honored custom of the fathers in wearing hobnailed coats, and the presbytery would hereby warn the brethren against conformity to the custom of the fathers."

Sit Down and Think.

Somewhere in Caleb Powers' book will be found this sentence: "In me, the Republican party is on trial in Kentucky. Whenever I am tried, the Republican party is put on trial."

Sit down and calmly think over this sentence and try to comprehend its full meaning. It is true, but from your standpoint can you tell why it is true?—Somerset Journal.

Both Powers and the Republican party have been on trial, and each have argued their case and lost. No time to "sit down and think" now, better kneel down and pray.

Dream Came True.

Mrs. J. W. Hanna had a dream that impressed her to such an extent that she sought the pages of a dream book to interpret its meaning. The book revealed the meaning of the subject she dreamed about, and foretold that Mrs. Hanna would inherit a legacy from a deceased relative.

Monday she received a letter from Massachusetts, announcing the death of her uncle, Chas. Hubbard, and saying that she and others, heirs of her deceased mother, Mrs. Eliza P. Tabb, were entitled to Mr. Hubbard's estate.

We have not learned the value of that legacy, but only hope it may be quite a handsome one.—Dover Messenger.

EPISCOPAL BISHOPS ACT.

Overtures Suggested to Methodists and Presbyterians Looking to Union.

The feature of the session of the Pan-American conference of Episcopal Bishops at Washington, D. C., was the adoption of a resolution "recommending a more kindly attitude toward the other Protestant bodies, with a view to possible union with them."

The resolution suggests that the governing bodies of the church lay before the Presbyterian General Assembly and the Methodist General Conference the contents of a paper read by the Coadjutor Bishop of Montreal on the points of agreement and disagreement between Protestant churches.

The resolution asks these Protestant communions seriously to consider the subject of church unity, with a view to "arriving at intercommunion and possible union of them and us, through the composition of some of the differences and the recognition that others do not constitute sufficient reasons for creating or continuing a rupture."

"Oh! Too bad! I'm sorry to hear that, old man."

"Well, it wasn't so bad, either. I started a ranch in Arizona and made a good deal of money."

"I'm glad to hear that, Tom. That was fine."

"Well, I don't know about that; it wasn't so good, either, for after I'd been running the ranch a while a murrain came along and killed off most of my stock."

"Too bad, too bad!"

HEADQUARTERS!

Special attention is called to our FANCY WORK DEPARTMENT, where we have all the new ideas.

Madam Knott still has charge of the Dressmaking Department, and Mr. Vleck remains at the head of the Ladies' Tailoring Department. They need no introduction to the ladies of Montgomery County.

ALL'S WELL THAT ENDS WELL.

Ups and Downs of a College Man's Married Life Turned Out Beautifully.

"Tom," said Jack, as they lighted their cigars after the class reunion dinner, "tell me something about yourself. What have you been doing all these years since we left college?"

"Well, Jack, I've had my ups and downs. I was just about to start in business in New York when my physician ordered me to go West for my health."

"Well, it wasn't so bad, after all for it drove me from ranching to Denver, and in Denver I met the girl who was fated to become my wife."

"Congratulations, old boy; that was fine!"

"Well, I don't know; it wasn't so fine, either, for she turned out to have quite a temper, and she didn't make me very happy."

"Awfully sorry to hear it, old chap. That must have been a blow. That was bad, bad!"

"Well, it wasn't so bad, either. We were scratching along, living on next to nothing, when my wife's uncle died and left her a lot of money. We built a nice home of our own and moved in."

"That was great luck, old man, now wasn't it?"

"Well, it wasn't so good as it sounds; it didn't last. We hadn't been in the house six months before it took fire one night and was burned to the ground."

"Wasn't that hard luck! Too bad, too bad!"

"Well, I don't know; it wasn't so bad, either."

"How so?"

"My wife was burned up with the house."

Beckham's Statement.

Governor Beckham made a statement in which he said:

"Another time has Kentucky Democracy scored a great victory, and I am especially pleased at the great majority, which argues for greater victories in the future. The Republicans should realize now that their fight is a losing one and that they can not win by blackmail and newspaper libel. They will be compelled to see that they will have to fight without any stains on their garments, and that a campaign of abuse and calumny will always prove a losing fight. The Democratic government is endorsed by the people, and has placed Kentucky from among the doubtful States to a Democratic State, and will be a potent factor in the election of the next President, who will probably be a Democrat."

Police Officers Don't Believe Capt. Ewen's Tale of Alleged Attempt to Assassinate Him.

The following is what two officers of the force have to say of the recent alleged attempt to assassinate Capt. Ewen, in Lexington. After working on this case of the alleged attempt to assassinate Capt. B. J. Ewen, for three days, we find no evidence that leads us to believe that there is any truth in the alleged attempt to assassinate him, and it is our honest opinion that the whole thing is a 'fake. Furthermore, we are convinced from all the evidence we have secured, and heard, that Capt. Ewen did all the shooting himself.

Kentucky appears to be Democratic.

The Intoxicated Cows.

Rarely has anything more painful been seen than the exhibition of certain cows in a German village. By a lamentable mistake somebody put some alcohol into their fodder, and when the authorities came to milk them they were found reeling about the field in platoons, wearing on their now animated faces the merry expression of those who do not go to home till morning, till daylight does appear. The episode recalls the story of the priest who told an Irishman that he ought to imitate the cows in that those respectable animals were never seen in a state of intoxication. "Ah," said Pat, "but have the basties ever come across a shtrame of whisky?"

JUDICIAL OFFICIALS

In Allie W. Young, as Judge of the Circuit Court and Alex Conner, Commonwealth's Attorney, the people have reason to believe that the laws will be regarded, that justice will prevail, that dockets will be kept clear and that these gentlemen will be as acceptable as any of their predecessors. Mr. Young is a man strong in mind and body, well versed in law, an analytical training, capable of arriving at conclusions as reasoned from law and evidence, and with courage to carry them out.

TO WORK.

Election is over, enthusiasm will wane after to-day and it will be time for men to turn their attention to business with all their might and power. Mt. Sterling would greatly improve if we would give our energies in this direction as we have for party cause. We approve of determined, honorable efforts to succeed in politics and just so in business. A Bank and manufacturing company succeed by reason of all men working together and just so it is a city grows enhancing property values. Lets go to work for Mt. Sterling for our own personal business interest.

A LITTLE THING.

President Roosevelt, through his Secretary, Mr. Loeb, in an aping of foreign courts, by having the messengers about the White House uniformed, and the report that the ushers and doorknippers will appear in the same distinctive dress, is a source of no little comment. Of course the people are to pay for the dress and what ever addition expense may be called for. A little thing is this, but it is sufficient to show something of the extravagance of the administration and the aping nonsense of European forms and customs.

EXPRESSION OF APPRECIATION.

We publish the following because we would have the people know we are human and are glad to learn when the ADVOCATE and its co-workers throughout the State, after continuous arguments supporting Democratic doctrines, are recognized as one of the motor powers that aided in bringing out the Democratic vote of the State, thereby resulting in so great a victory.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 4, '03
Editor Mt. Sterling Advocate,
Mt. Sterling, Ky.

My Dear Sir:

On behalf of our Committee and every Democrat in the State, whom we represent, I thank you for the splendid service you rendered us during the campaign just closed. I do not think any Campaign Committee ever had as universal, continuous and effective aid from the press as did our committee. We appreciate it, the candidates appreciate it and the Democracy of the State commend it.

Again thanking you, I am, very cordially yours,

S. W. HAGER, Chairman.

FRAUDS.

Republicans are busy themselves by reporting frauds perpetrated by Democrats. They could see nothing but Democratic unfairness and it matters not how flagrant the Republican fraud and attempt to intimidate, they were blind, stone blind; they saw nothing. Negroes, 25 to 35 in number, coming about the polls, all sorts and ages, stacking all kinds of guns nearby is not a chance affair. We are advised such a state of affairs existed at one of the voting precincts in Montgomery county and it is palpable as a general rule. This looks like a Taylor scheme on a small scale, and it would not be a bad idea for the sake of peace and protection that the grand jury look into such happenings. To say the least of it, to rabbit hunt around voting precincts is not advisable. As to the conduct of Democrats, the same law applies to them and they should observe the directions on the cards of instruction and be a correct example to their weaker political opponents.

The Payton Sisters.

The Paducah (Ky.) Sun, of October 6, has the following notice: "The three famous Payton Sisters and their big Company opened their week's engagement at the Kentucky last night to an appreciative audience and in spite of the large crowds on the streets and at the Carnival, the audience was very large and went away more than satisfied. The Payton Sisters made a big hit in their work and their gowns were commented on very favorably. The specialists were the best ever seen with a repertoire company in Paducah, and in fact the Payton Sisters deserve good patronage as they have a good show indeed."

They play here three nights, commencing Monday, the 16th, at popular prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents, with ladies free to the opening performance. Change of program at every performance.

The Payton Sisters.

Monday. This company has the reputation of being the best on the road, playing at popular prices, and theatre goers of Mt. Sterling will no doubt fill the house at each performance. The opening bill will be "In A Parkers great play 'Utah' a rural comedy drama in four acts, telling of life in Utah during the Mormon regime in that State. Dr. J. J. Taylor, President of the Baptist College at Georgetown, preached to delighted audiences Sunday morning and evening. His treatment of Christian Education was fine and his evening sermon was greatly enjoyed. Dr. Taylor will always meet with an appreciative audience here. Fortunate is Georgetown College to have the brainy, energetic scholar, Dr. J. J. Taylor for her President.

DEATHS.

CHENACULT.—Mrs. David Chenacult, of Richmond, died of consumption.

ENOCH.—On Saturday, October 31, at Kansas City, Mo., W. D. Enoch, aged 73 years, died of dropsy. He was for several years a resident of this city—a clerk in the store of his son, J. C. Enoch. He was an excellent old gentleman. His many friends will regret to hear of his death. J. C. Enoch was with him when he died.

TABB.—On Wednesday, November 4, 1903, at their home in this city, Mrs. Mary J., aged 58 years, wife of J. L. Tabb, entered into rest. For sixteen years she has been almost helpless and has been a sufferer for twenty two years. The funeral service was conducted at the home by her pastor, Rev. H. D. Clark, on Friday morning and the burial was in Macphelah. The family have lived here for eight years. There are three children: Mrs. L. F. Payne, of Midway, H. G. and [N. H. Tabb, of this city. For many years she has been a member of the Christian Church. Patient in suffering, cheerful, gentle, trusting and hopeful she has been an inspiration to those who have known her intimately. Her suffering is over, but she lives in that heavenly home free from care and pain.

BOWEN.—Cassell Bowen, son of Wm. and George Ann Bowen, born December 6th, 1881, departed this life November 3rd, 1903, being 21 years, 10 months and 28 days of age. He leaves father, mother, two brothers and four sisters to mourn his loss. Cas was a kind charitable boy, often giving the last penny he would have to those in distress around him. His genial disposition won him a host of friends which was manifest by the way they flocked in to see him during his last hours. Death came so unexpected, almost without warning and snatched from a happy family circle one of their most beloved, prostrating the family with grief—leaving a vacancy in their hearts and home which can never be filled. But as a healing balm for that almost unconsoilable grief he confessed his Savior and told them he had left everything with his God. His last words were: "I die hard but I am not afraid to go." Funeral services were conducted at the family residence by Rev. R. A. Irvin. His text being: "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in Heaven." The body was interred in the Fawkenr Cemetery.

C. E. Convention.

The Convention held at Carlisle, November 6, 7 and 8, of the fourth district was one of the best held since its organization. Most of the delegates arrived there Friday evening, there being about forty in all. They expected about seventy-five but the rest could not come on account of sickness and other obstacles. We were met at the depot by the reception committee, of whom there were quite a number, and as we descended the steps of the coach we were welcomed by a song. From the depot we went to the church where we listened to quite a fine program. After the "Welcome Address," by Rev. P. F. King, pastor of the Christian Church, every one realized that they were certainly welcome. Mr. Houston Rion, President of the fourth district, (and a competent president he is) told us of the C. E. Society, in a way which displayed his enthusiasm in this work and was much enjoyed by all who had the pleasure of hearing him. The remainder of the program for the evening was good but space forbids us giving it. After the services we went to the reception room of the church where we registered, partook of an elegant lunch, (such as the Carlisle people are capable of getting up) and then were assigned to our elegant homes where we were entertained (and entertained we were indeed.)

Saturday morning the program was resumed. Rev. F. M. Tindler, former pastor of that church, was on the program for two talks but was unable to get there, greatly to the disappointment of the people, and some others that were to address the convention failed to get there also. Their places were filled by others. We had the pleasure of listening to the talented Sunday School Worker, Mr. Robt. Hopkins, which was enjoyed by all. Brother Kling introduced Brother Hopkins as "The Condensed Cyclone," which the congregation agreed with him upon being an appropriate epithet. Most of our people are acquainted with Brother Hopkins and will remember him as quite an enthusiastic Sunday School worker. Brother H. J. Dethrick, of Berea, of whom a number at this place are acquainted with, addressed the Convention on "The Mountain Problem," and after this I think the people had quite a different view of the mountain people and their ways. The address by Rev. A. H. Lindsay on "What is Prayer," gave us all an insight into the prayer. Remainder of program good.

Saturday afternoon was Junior Session, lead by Mrs. Alex. Conner, District Junior Superintendent, showed what the Juniors have done, could do and are doing, and displayed Mrs. Conner's ability as a superintendent. All the talks and readings were good.

One of the special features of the evening was the paper read by Mrs. J. W. Arnold, of Richmond, (nee Miss Margaret Jones, of this city,) on "Christian Endeavor in our State Prisons. Is it Worthwhile, and Why?" This gave all an insight into the prison work, and showed what great good is being accomplished by the perseverance of these Christian women and men.

We also had the pleasure of listening to the male quartette of Christian Church which is the finest we have heard.

Sunday morning we had regular Sunday School and Church services.

Sunday afternoon services were held at county jail lead by Miss Etha VanArsdall, District Prison Secretary, of Paris. This meeting was well attended. Mrs. J. W. Arnold also responded at this meeting.

Regular C. E. Prayer meeting 6:00 to 7:00. Service begun at 7:30. The Committee reported on resolutions. The time and place of meeting was not decided upon—received two invitations. One to Paris and one to Owingsville. We were again favored with another quartette. All responded to roll call with Scripture verses and Carlisle Society with hymn and verse.

The Convention was quite a success and much enjoyed by all—all feeling that they were greatly benefited by it. The delegates from this Society wish to thank the people of Carlisle for their hospitality and if we are lucky enough to get the Convention to meet here again, "the latch-string hangs on the outside" for all. May these Conventions continue to do good in our earnest prayer.

Democratic Daybreak.

A general survey of the returns of Tuesday's elections can result only in the best of cheer for the Democratic party.

While here and there local considerations were among the influences effecting the poll, yet through out the country the showing is of a current so strongly setting toward the Democrats that neither its cause nor its significance is to be mistaken or confused with any effects that minor and ephemeral factors may have exerted on the outcome.

In Kentucky, their one vital and essential explanation is that Kentucky is a Democratic State when over Kentucky Democrats stand together. The violent campaign of abuse and calumny made by the Republicans; their arrogation to themselves of all the virtues whose lack they charged against their opponents; the pharisaism of their machine-controlled party demanding the explosion of the Democrats on the ground that their party was controlled by a machine; the prominence of the Federal office-holders in the contest; the bigotry of crusaders demanding reform and yet offering as instruments of reform a party and politicians noisome of pitch; apology for assassinations and condemnation of the courts that have sought to punish assassins—all these had some share in shaping Tuesday's issue, but all combined could not have brought forth the old-time Democratic majority if the great preponderance of the white voters of the State had not been old-time Democrats. It was these who, discarding the husks of Populism that once divided them, and coming together once more as Democrats, told Tuesday's splendid story.

And as it was in Kentucky, so it was in New York and Maryland. The Democrats there came into their own again because they put aside the folly of dissension over Days Was My Life's Limit.

Agony From Inherited Heart Disease.
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

One person in every four has a weak heart. Unless promptly treated a weak heart will easily become a diseased heart. A little extra strain from any cause is sufficient to bring on this deadly malady, the most common cause of sudden death. In Miles' Heart Cure will tone up the heart's action, enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

"My trouble began with catarrh and I have always supposed it caused the trouble I have experienced with my heart. I had the usual symptoms of dyspepsia, loss of appetite, constipation, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath and pain around the heart and under left arm. My mother suffered in the same way and I suppose mine was an inherited tendency. At one time I was in agony. I suffered so severely and became so weak that my doctors said I could not live thirty days. At this time I had not slept over two hours a night on account of nervousness. The heart exercise such as walking about, would bring on palpitation and distressing of the heart to such a degree that I would have to give up everything and rest. After some time Dr. Miles' Heart Cure cured me of constipation and heart trouble. I am now under the influence of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure. I am in better health than I have been in twelve years and I thank Dr. Miles' Heart Cure for it. I think they are the greatest remedies on earth and I can confidently recommend them to my friends."—Mrs. L. J. CANTRELL, Washington, D. C.

un-Democratic propositions and got together, as of old, against a party whose very existence is inspired and sustained by opposition to Democracy. The consequence is that Maryland, despite the power of the Federal Administration, confirms her stand in the Democratic column, electing another Democratic Governor and a Legislature which will sweep out of the United States Senate the State's only remaining representative in that body; while New York, through McClellan's great triumph resumes its place as the keystone in the arch of the National Democracy. And thus the Democratic party, which three years ago found itself demoralized, divided, cut to pieces and all but annihilated, enters upon the year of another presidential campaign restored to its senses, restored to its organization, with its indomitable spirit animated anew by the demonstration of its power which Tuesday's battle showed and by the promise of victory which the result of that battle holds out.—Courier Journal November 5.

"IF YOU'RE SUITED, IT SUITS ME."

[This poem was found among papers left at the County Clerk's office and brought to us. So much of a feast to the tired mind and pure heart it is that we have taken the liberty to publish it. It is from the literary pen of Rev. W. J. Jolin, former pastor of the Baptist Church here now of Patuxent, Md., and is worthy a place in the collection of the rarest poems.—Ed.]

You have cherished high ambitions,
Built your castle windows fair,
Enriched your eager hand to grasp them
And you drenched the empty air
With trembling hand so human Hanging limp by falling grace,
Surrendering all so hard to say it
"If you're suited, it suits me."

Or perchance the blind god, Cupid,
Sent an arrow to your heart
And a loving, heavenly vision
Came upon you with a start.

Then it left you broken, aching
On the shore of wintery sea.
As you mused, say to the sovereign,
"If you're suited, it suits me."

Maybe all you ask of heaven
Is to place in your work,
You are brave, and you are skillful
Now you are inclined to shrink,
But you place your trust in another,
Saves as it is hard to be.

Understand "God, you are sovereign,
You're suited, it suits me."
Possibly your home is hidden;
Wife and children round you beam,
Rustle with wings of the mountain
Fiction, distant spots of green,
Foolish wife, ungrateful children,
Hand and wife, it is to thee
"If you're suited, it suits me."

He's suited, it suits me,
Nestly wife upon the hearstone,
There is now the radiant dream
I made bright the wedding morning
Saying such a golden dream
Sighs had chased the brightness,
The old dream this was to be
"If you're suited, it suits me."

When I was disappointed soldier,
Come to hear for your dear knell,
Though you've cherished spots of heaven
Down to you to endow him,
Malignance has reached its climax,
As you plough the dry sea.

Murmuring "God, you are sovereign,
If you're suited, it suits me."
When you years in awful anguish
For a vision bright and clear,
And your heart-words came ampler
And you realize your fate,
Find your comfort in submission,
Answer back as shadows the
"All right, God, you are sovereign,
If you're suited, it suits me."

It suits you, why not me?
When you years in awful anguish
For a vision bright and clear,
And your heart-words came ampler
And you realize your fate,
Find your comfort in submission,
Answer back as shadows the
"All right, God, you are sovereign,
If you're suited, it suits me."

What man is here, but a puppet,
In the hand of a little fate,
Wishes the difference when you learn it?
Whether early, whether late?
At last you must come to it,
Finally be made to see it.

"All right, God, you are sovereign,
If you're suited, it suits me."
That is this I have been saying,
God forgive me for too late,
I don't know that you're Father,
Ever stern, relentless Fate,
And the life-plan about him formed
In the best that ever could be,
For a living Christ in the Kingdom
Lord of life for you and me.

Go then have high ambition,
Every earthly dream of bliss,
For my life in the future,
Resting sweetly upon this—
"For good all things do together—
Whether bringing joy or pain,
Unto those who love the Father,"
Blessed be His holy name!

Twilight on a Farm.

The dew comes down and shadows gather in the dark and deep;
Low in the west a band of black gives promise of a rain.

It is the twilight hour, and given over to calm and rest.
The boys come in and bathe their faces at the cooling well.

After and faint, then near and sweet, tinkle the last cow's bell;
It is the twilight hour, and stars are starting from the deep.

High heaven's heralds sent to watch that men
may sleep.
The father comes, a man of many years of toil and ease.

Who smiles to see the candle in the self same window there;
It is the twilight hour, and, with the farm work
smelly done,

He feels a poor man's joy to think the food is won.
Then all sit down to eat the evening meal, and far away

A wisp of smoke rises on the neighbor's name who saves delay;
It is the twilight hour, and, free from day's unending quest,

It brings to home a benediction and is best.

THE "DO ANYTHING" MAN.
Is Usually the Man Who Is of No
Use at All.

My first visit to the bank is a most vivid memory, says a bank cashier, in Everybody's.

"Well, my boy," began my uncle, "what do you want to do?"

"Oh, anything," I blurted with the cheerful stupidity of boyhood.

"My boy," he said slowly, "let me tell you that the hardest man in the world to find work for is the man who says that he can do 'anything' or is willing to do 'anything.' Usually he is the man who can't do a thing."

"Now, you ought to have sense enough to know that you can't do 'anything.' I don't believe, either, that you are as stupid as your father thinks, and I am going to give you a chance to prove that I am right. If you are good for anything, we shall soon find it out;
and if you are good for nothing,
we shall soon find that out, too."

I have never forgotten that brief conversation. The "old man" has long since passed away, but even nowadays when the "do anything" chap presents himself with a letter of introduction, I think of my uncle long enough to bear witness to the truth and force of his view.

A HARD STRUGGLE.

Many a Mt. Sterling Citizen Finds the Struggle Hard.
With a back constantly aching
With distressing urinary disorders
Daily existence is but a struggle.
No need to keep it up
Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.

J. B. Lewis, of 426 Shelby St., Editor of the Frankfort Roundabout, says: "For a year or more I suffered a great deal from a dull aching pain across my back. At times the aching was constant for a day or two. If I sat still but for a short time it became almost unbearable and if I stooped or lifted anything I felt sharp twinges in the small of my back. The secretions from the kidneys were not irregular as well as highly colored and the odor very offensive. I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills through our papers, and got a box. After using them a few days I commenced to see an improvement. I kept on with the treatment and the pains on my back entirely left me and the kidney secretions became normal.
From the great amount of good I derived from the use of this medicine I have every reason to be convinced of its merit and have had the slightest hesitancy in giving it my hearty endorsement."

A Reason For Democratic Victory.

From Rothwell the writer came to town in a buggy with G. B. Swango. The road is first-class. Water is scarce. Democrats are plentiful and enthusiastic. The largest Democratic majority was 459 for Whit, Beckham 394. The highest heretofore was 378 for Bryan. In one precinct the Republican clerk failed to certify 63 votes for Barrett, republican candidate for Senate opposed to Whit, this increasing Whit's majority.

Dawn of a New Era in Mt. Sterling Merchandising.

THE GRAND OPENING OF WALSH BROTHERS NEW STORE.

From the opening of our doors Saturday morning until the closing at midnight, our store was crowded with buyers and visitors who were elaborate in their praises for the neatness and completeness of this establishment. We are gracious for the many wishes of success showered on us by our patrons and know the public fully appreciates our efforts to give them a trading establishment for men and boys second to none in Kentucky. Everything new, not a dollar's worth of old stock in our house. All of this season's make, style and of the best brands in the world.

WALSH BROTHERS

Are here, and here to stay, and you people know our career in merchandising in this town. You know we have raised the standard of qualities and lowered the prices in every instance of every thing we have touched or handled. Whenever a cut in prices was necessary and the public benefitted, WALSH BROS. have been first to do it; and we shall go on and on, standing on the same foundation, in the same course, using the same methods, doing what we believe to be right, carrying the largest stock, the newest styles and best brands; refunding the money when purchase is not satisfactory, treating the child the same as the parent, as long as we remain in the clothing business, and sooner or later you will become one of the buying throng that outgrew our old quarters and forced us to a larger and brighter building right in the heart of the city.

We urge you to come and inspect our magnificent stock, and see how much better goods and how much farther your dollar will go here than elsewhere.

Tailoring Department.

In our new, first-class, up-to-date TAILORING DEPARTMENT we have taken more measures this fall than all the town combined. We do this because we won't let 'em go out if they don't fit. We keep the piece goods; can take your measure any time and fit you. The man has a tailor-made suit (for its fit) or he is very foolish in not getting a ready-to-wear one. In our clothing line we can only give you an idea of what we handle. We say only very fine tailor work compares with HART, SHAFFNER & MARX and HIGH ART SUITS AND OVERCOATS, PRICES $10 TO $30. If your shape can be fitted in either of these you will get better satisfaction than from anybody's medium price tailoring place.

SUMMER COON.
BUGVILLE, KY., NOV. 6, 1903.

DEER EDITOR:—

It's all over now, the next question is what did it. The good people of this grand old Commonwealth refused to indorse men who stand between assassinations and the laws of the land, that cowardly shot from the State house window in 1900 will be a stumbling block for the party that concocted it for many years to come yet, the fear the good people had of those assassins being turned loose put men to studying a little when they went to mark the ballots another thing. Some of Mr. Belknap's speakers drove votes to the other side. There is a heap in having the right kind of a blowing machine on the stump, you can't expect to get good clean music out of an old second-hand Bugle that sum other party's has throne away. I tell you right now I haven't got as much sense as a stewed oyster, but by Jacks I will bet from thirty-five to thirty cents that I can take two gallons of pure old Kentucky scotch and gobble up more votes in twenty-four hours than all the yelling machines Belknap had on the stump during his campaign. I only heard one gentleman like speech out of a dozen on the Belknap side and that was made by Mr. Yckers, I take him to be a nice gentleman, but I don't like his ticks worth a cent, never select second hand, throne away timber to make a good job out of it, wont workout right, the track was too dry for Belknap, he runs better on a mud bottom, and all so up against a young scoldone you must remember, look here Boss you ant spelling your words to sute my ligation, dont mater, most any kind of a little old thing will explain the defeat of Belknap.

I wonder if Brother Cliff Tompson and Mr. Brooks wont have charge of the Salt river colored brigade? I dont no the ar mighty slo, tha may get left. Look here! I dont notic no large amount of that Belknap money being in circulation a round town, I dont believe the coons got much of it after all. Many you did not mix up with the role holders. Wel, dus them role holders, as you call them send back eney thing after the sugar it waid? Yes, every thing gone down, thats what I lowed, I see now the ider is to have nothing left over, you said sumthin then! I will be dead asped if I o u t r e a l got to lea role holder the time if I de lora spars me, I tell you right now sum of the role holders in this last out fit took a little scattering themselves, to man up a tree.

Wel let mee dis, if I was running for sum kind of a little office and I wet to put fifty or a hundred dollars in youre hands to work on voters for mee, how would you begir business? Wel, I would put ten out of the hundred in theiswering pocket and leav the ninty in the send back pocket, wld I get ninty back, thats all right, yes set back ninty. Wel by gosh no wonder I see so meny dabling in election nowar days. I tell you the third ward come out mighty short this time. What was the matter you reckon? Wel the coons lost to much time in having the picture taken, it wont do make a pictu gaily out of a voting place, and a nother thing the promest amount of ligat was not turned on acording to expectation.

NOT A WONDERFUL YEAR.

Popular Superstition Not Supported by History.

Is 1903 an "annus mirabilis"? A correspondent insists that it is, and offers in proof of his statement unseasonable weather every month, unprecedented drouth, the bottom falling out of the stock market, the Serbian assassinations, the death of the pope and "the gloomy record of crimes of violence, lynchings, murders, suicides, to say nothing of the 'fight to a finish' in which labor and capital are now engaged," says the Chicago Tribune. In conclusion, the correspondent wonders whether the events of the "wonderful year" could have occurred in any year the digits composing which did not form the fateful number "13."

If the matter depended upon "the fateful number 13" this correspondent might well set his mind at rest. The last year whose digits compose 13 was 1840, and it was about the dullest, most uneventful year of the century. There was nothing "wonderful" about it. Queen Victoria got married, penny postage was introduced in England, President Harrison was elected, the Mormons founded Nauvoo, the opium war with China was brought to an end and William I., of Holland, abdicated. Nearly every other year in the nineteenth century was more an "annus mirabilis" than 1840. And 1804, the preceding "13" year in the list, was not as wonderful as 1840.

But what is there specially "wonderful" about 1903 that should make this correspondent so pessimistic? Do we not have unseasonable weather every year? Supposing the bottom of the stock market has fallen out. Has there not been marked activity in all lines of legitimate business? Have the mishaps of speculation been reflected in trade industry? Has the assassination in Serbia created a ripple in the political or diplomatic world of Europe? The Roman pontiff is dead. He was old and he was mortal. Was not his death significant, however, in its revelation of the unity of Christian sentiment and sympathy? As to crime, it is no more rampant this year than it was last year, only certain unusual circumstances in certain unusual places have called special attention to it. In the long flight of time one year averages up very like another year. The "wonderful years" are extremely rare.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. For sale in this city in the form of a trial set in the wrapper of a bottle of Scott's Emulsion.
